VIDED FOR HOMELESS—

The latest reports from relief workers indicate possibly fifteen hundred persons were killed and ten thousand injured.

VOLSTEAD OUSTED BY SUPREME COURT

JUDGE JOHNSON REVERSED BY HIGHER COURT IN ELECTION
CONTEST CASE

St. Paul, Sept. 11—Representative Andrew J. Volstead was ruled off the state republican ticket for congressman in the seventh district by the state supreme court today and reversed the decision of Judge Albert Johnson in the Volstead-Kvale primary contest.

Kvale of Benson, Minn., received the majority of the votes cast for the congressional nomination in the seventh district. He was charged with violation of the corrupt practices act by Volstead and Judge Johnson held Kvale disqualified and declared Volstead the nominee. Kvale carried the contest to the supreme court alleging Judge Johnson exceeded his authority in awarding Volstead the nomination. The contention was that the court should have declared a vacancy.

The supreme court's decision has created a vacancy on the republican ticket for congressman in the seventh district. This, it was presumed, will call for a special primary election in the district before election day, November 2, or will allow either candidate to file as an independent candidate for election. Attorney General Hilton, or possibly the supreme court, will be asked to rule on the situation.

HARDING SAYS AMERICA HAS BEEN DUPED

BY DIFFERENCE IN FRENCH AND ENGLISH TEXTS OF LEAGUE
SAFEGUARDING MONROE DOCTRINE

RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Marion, Sept. 11—Suggestions that America has been duped by shocking discrepancies in the French and English texts of articles in the Versailles treaty supposed to safeguard the Monroe Doctrine, was made by Senator Warren G. Harding today. These discrepancies might readily involve us into a conflict, he said. He demanded those advocating acceptance of the league covenant bring about an explanation.

This new angle was sprung in a double barrel broadside on Wilson's policy by Harding today in a speech to a delegation of business men from Chicago, Michigan, and Indiana.

The other half of Harding's speech, unsparingly lashed the ineffective meddling policy of the democratic administration toward business. Eight years of democratic administration have increased, rather than reduced, inefficiency and we have become the "inefficient prodigals of the world," he said. He advocated rebuilding of our economic life "so that our prosperity shall not be the prosperity of profiteers, nor special privileges."

WILL NOT CALL COX TO TESTIFY

CAMPAIGN INVESTIGATING COM-MITTEE DOES NOT CONSID-ER IT NECESSARY

L. C. MARTIN
(Staff Correspondent United Press)

Chicago, Sept. 11—Miss Bernice Coyne, of Aberdeen, S. D., newspaper writer, testified she read a letter to a stenographer in the revenue office at Aberdeen urging her to contribute to the democratic campaign fund. She said Marion Prometrant, Lida Young and Marion Kennedy, all civil service employees in Aberdeen, told her they received such letters signed "E. M. Waterbury."

She named Sigrid Holland, Jessie Barchard, of Minneapolis, Grace Curtis and Ruth Kelly, also federal employees, who received the letter.

F. C. Barhou, who received $500 a week for raising money in charge of the Chicago city campaign for $500,000 now going on, told the committee it would be "bad psychology" to assess prospects a definite sum. He said he had a card index list of twenty-five thousand prospects in Chicago. He said eight hundred of these ought to give $1,000 each, and hoped half of that number would. Reed asked if that was the "cream list." He didn't call it that replied the witness.

"Well it is at least half and half," said Reid. Barhou denied the Chicago quota was $700,000.

Chicago, Sept. 11—The senate campaign fund investigating committee today definitely turned down demands from F. A. Munsey of New York and others that Gov. Cox be put on the stand in the inquiry into his charges that the republicans were planning to raise a huge "corruption fund."

Senator Kenyon, chairman, said he had received more than a hundred demands that Cox be called. The latest of these came from Munsey, New York publisher. He said, E. H. Moore, Cox's personal representative had told the committee he brought all the evidence Cox had and the committee thought it was needless to summon the democratic candidate.

Investigating Committee Adjourns

Chicago, Sept. 11—Investigation of Governor Cox's slush fund charges came to a close here today when the senatorial committee which has been sitting since August 30, adjourned.

A session will be resumed September 22 in the east.

The final session was devoted to testimony concerning the Chicago fund of $500,000 and contributions to the democratic campaign fund by girl employees in the internal revenue collectors office at Aberdeen, S. D., following solicitations by means of letters sent to them.

Paris, Sept. 11—The French authorities this afternoon practically decided to abandon the investigation in the death of Miss Olive Thomas, American motion picture star.

According to authoritative information the police were inclined to accept the explanation that death from mercurial poisoning yesterday was due to accident, as they had learned that a French physician had prescribed the medicine of which she is alleged to have taken an overdose.

COX CONTINUES SPEAKING TOUR

SAYS GOVERNMENT MUST NEVER BE AT MERCY OF UPPER CLASS OR LOWER MOB

HERBERT WALKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 11—"The government must never be at the mercy of an upper class or lower mob," Governor Cox declared this morning in opening a day full of stump speeches along the western coast of Washington.

His address, it was apparent, was directed at the so called radical element that have been creating disturbances in the northwest.

"A sure way to prevent radicalism is to keep the government responsible to the will of the people," but added in again attacking the senatorial oligarchy, "that it is impossible with reactionaries in control."

WHOLESALE PRICES HAVE BEEN DECLINING FOR THREE MONTHS

RALPH COUCH,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept. 11—Break in retail prices will be shown in price reports covering the entire country now being prepared, labor department officials predicted today.

The report probably will be issued late next week.

Wholesale prices have been declining for three months. Prices paid farmers declined ten per cent in August, according to the agricultural department, while live stock men got 2.3 per cent less.

Commodity prices also suffered a decline during the past three months, according to the federal reserve board. Raw materials are on the decline. Some materials like crude rubber and leather prices are near pre war prices.

Unless speculators and middlemen are reaping a harvest of profits between the manufacturer and consumer, retail food prices must now begin to show the decline of wholesale and manufacture quotations, officials said here today.

BE A HELPFUL BYSTANDER
By CAPTAIN G. R. G. FISHER

Rabid Dog and Snake Bites

Rabies is not at all uncommon and is a most dangerous condition. While usually found in dogs, it is also transmitted from cats, pigs, horses, sheep and among wild animals—foxes and wolves. It is well to remember that the poison is in the saliva or froth; consequently, a bite through clothing is not apt to be so dangerous as on the bare skin; also to know that a rabid animal does not necessarily have to bite one to infect him—any of the saliva coming into contact with an open sore may produce hydrophobia. Prevention in a case of this kind is most vital, and it is with the dog especially that we ought to exercise very great care. Hence it is well to heed the following indications. Usually a dog does not show infection until from three to five weeks, when he becomes depressed, irritable, snappish, restless, slinks off into dark corners, hides in the cellar, or crawls under a shed or outhouse. He rejects his usual food provided by the family, eats rubbish, dirt, etc., and snarls at the sight of water, and the mouth is filled with thick saliva. As the disease progresses, the animal develops convulsions, the bark becomes hoarse, paralysis is generally the final stage, but most dogs toward the end become greatly excited and run loose, snapping at everything. One dog running loose in eastern Minnesota cost one county thousands of dollars in the loss of horses, colts and cattle generally which he bit.

In case a person is bitten, lose no time in dealing with the patient. In fact, at once squeeze bitten part to make it bleed; which if it does not, quickly cross slit with a clean sharp knife or razor (over bite) and encourage to bleed, and if the lips are not cracked, suck, but first cleanse off surface of wound.

If on extremities, immediately tie a ligature of string or strips of cotton between bite and the heart. In fact, it is well to tie several up the limb. Then insist on bleeding as described, follow this with burning the wound, using either nitric or carbolic acid, or if these are not obtainable, with a red hot iron or blade. Frontiersmen often put a little gun-powder on a wound wet with a solution of bichloride of mercury, 1 to 4,000; peroxide of hydrogen, 50-50; or lysol, or iodine. Take off ligatures and be sure to treat shock; if liquor of any kind is used, only give in small doses and in water.

For snake bites, the same treatment is followed, in the main, though, of course, the poison from such is much more active than that of rabies; death may even occur from four to five hours, or in as many days.

The snakes in America which are most dangerous are the Rattlesnake, Water Moccasin, Copperhead and Coral, and in the bite of these, care must be taken to use several ligatures on limbs, so as to restrain spread of the venom, and remember, bites on face are the most dangerous.

Treat shock which is most positive in snake bites, and speed medical aid, but don't fail to follow these hints while physician is coming.

Entertains for Cousin

Miss Islay McColl entertained on Thursday evening for her cousin, Miss Alice Johnstone, who leaves soon for the Conservatory of Music at Oberlin, Ohio, to continue her study of the violin.

Pink predominated in the decorations, a profusion of gladioli being used, while American Beauty roses in bud vases were placed thru the rooms. The same color was carried out in the refreshments, the ice cream being served in the form of pink roses.

One corner of the living room was arranged as a shrine to the Japanese God, Buddha, and incense was burned

Partners were chosen and very "highbrow" conversation was carried on for fifteen minutes, when the guests were asked to write descriptions of their partners. Miss Margaret Webb and Walter Cleary won the prizes for the cleverest descriptions.

Just before leaving Miss Johnston was showered with gifts, both useful and amusing, and all joined in wishing her a pleasant journey and successful year.

GIRLS ARE MORE FAMILIAR WITH MEN

(United Press)
Chicago, Sept. 11—Flirting is a lost art.

According to Alice Clements, veteran police woman of Chicago, flirting is a matter of the past.

Girls have run the "art" to the ground, she said today. Where young women formerly would start a young man's heart beating fast by a demure look or lifting of the eyelid, the girl of today has no time for such action. Now days they just let themselves be picked up, said Mrs. Clements. "All a boy has to do is to tip his hat and he can get a girl".

Girls, Mrs. Clements said, are more familiar with men now than in the past.

And I refer to respectable girls, she said.

WHY MEN EMBEZZLE

A magazine writer who has been investigating the facts of embezzlement reports that there is an appalling amount of that sort of crime. In digging into the reasons why men steal, he adduces these:

In the first place, the "good old melodramatic reasons" still hold. To some extent men do embezzle funds because their wives, sisters or mothers have tuberculosis or there is a mortgage about to be foreclosed. That is to say, the human emergency is always with us as the strongest of motives. To a certain extent these crimes are—not excusable, of course, but recommended to mercy. There is hope for this type of men if he is caught in time and given a chance to redeem himself.

Then, of course, there is the bank employee who handles money in such quantities as to make him feel that others consider it of little value, while he is in constant need of money. This man, too, may be saved. The dreaded bank examiner is often enough a friend in need.

But an extraordinary number of the embezzling crimes are committed by men who want the money to "put on dog". They are imbued by false standards of what kind of life is worth living. They start the speculation because they want money for luxuries which they cannot afford, and they continue it, hoping to recoup by a lucky turn at stocks. Needless to say, they never recoup.

Nothing can save the man or woman who gets a good start along this line. The taste for easy luxury becomes part of the person. The jail sentence which follows does nothing to give these people a constructive attitude toward society.

But much can be done by an enlightened public opinion to prevent the bringing up of young people to believe that luxury is a vital part of life, that pretending to be something you are not or to own something you don't is of any lasting satisfaction. Half the mental energy used by the embezzler in a vain effort to cover up his tracks, if put into useful thinking, would in most cases give him a solid earning power equal to the one he shames.

THE PASSING DRUNKARD

The Salvation Army is one organization that has lost through prohibition. But what has it lost? The drunks who used to occupy its time and money and industrial homes. And is it mourning the loss? It is not.

Now that the alcoholics demand little time or money or space from this great organization, the army will branch out into active work among the drug addicts whose needs are acute and whose cure takes all three. Barracks will be refitted and modernized for the treatment of these unfortunates.

Another activity which hitherto the Salvation Army has been unable to maintain as fully as it wished is welfare work among young boys and children. This will now be taken up on a broad scale. Hospitals, too, for the poor and wretched, of whom there will always be many, are projected by that army whose fight is continually waged against the forces of trouble and sin. The passing of the drunkard has set the Salvation Army free to do all these things.

LEAGUE LOSING STRENGTH

(Milaca Tribune)

A comparison of the official figures of the 1918 and 1920 primaries shows that the League has lost strength in 76 of the 86 counties in Minnesota. These six are Beltrami, Carlton, Clearwater, Crow Wing, Freeborn, Kandiyohi, Lake, Pope, St. Louis and Winona, which are widely scattered and local conditions had considerable effect in each. The total vote shows that Shipstead in the other 76 counties had a loss of 25,539 from the vote given Lindberg, or an average of approximately 350 votes in each of these counties.

Fair Closes Tonight

St. Paul, Sept. 11—The Minnesota State Fair for 1920 will close its gates tonight.

Fair officials are satisfied. The fair was pronounced the "biggest and best ever"—and so long as they can keep up with the phrase each year they're satisfied, according to Secretary Thos. Canfield.

Record attendance, record exhibits and record prizes was the score for the fair as the last day got under way.

Flow of Gas Well Stopped

Winnipeg, Sept. 11—It took 5,000 cubic feet of thick "goosey" mud to stop the flow of gas from a well near Medicine Hat that has been flowing wild for the last five or six years. Officials plan now to cap the well and probably will arrange to turn it to commercial use.

Fl. Snelling Anniversary

St. Paul, Sept. 11—One of the biggest historical events in many years will be observance here tomorrow of the founding of old Fort Snelling a hundred years ago.

State officials, representatives of the Twin Cities and members of historical and other societies from all over the state will take part in the sacred ceremonial at the old round tower from the original fort at Snelling tomorrow.

Secretary of War Baker, General John J. Pershing and Maj. General Leonard Wood have all been invited to attend the celebration but it was found that it was impossible for all of them to attend.

Every factor that has contributed to the history and development of old

Fort Snelling will be demonstrated during the exercises it is planned.

Every Family Has Bank Account

Grand Forks, Sept. 11—Practically every family in Grand Forks has a bank account according to figures recently compiled by local bankers. These show an account for every seven persons. State bank figures show accounts in the state for every five and one half persons.

Pathetic Case of Neglect

Moorhead, Sept. 11—Death in a local hospital ended one of the most revolting and pathetic cases which has come under the attention of the Minnesota Humane Society. A Clay county nurse discovered an aged man, Halgrim Gulbrand, lying, it is said, neglected and in filth in his bed at the home of grand children to whom he had deeded his land on condition they provide for him the remainder of his days. The old man's clothing was dried to his skin and had to be soaked before it could be removed.

Novel Blotter Pad.

To save the time wasted by pen users in picking up and laying aside ordinary blotters, a western inventor has devised a means for attaching the absorbent paper to the wrist, where it is available for instant use, but does not interfere with the movement of the writer's hand. The contrivance includes a curved leather holder, into which a small blotter can be fitted, and a strap for fastening the device in place.

Immunity From Second Attack.

The United States public health service says that it is well known that an attack of measles or scarlet fever or smallpox usually protects a person against another attack of the same disease. To some extent this appears to be true also of influenza. Just how long such protection lasts is not known.

Tonight at the New Park

"The Gumps," a musical farce comedy based on Sydney Smith's popular cartoon will be presented at the New Park tonight by Norton, Bunnell and Klint, Inc.

The book was written by Howard McKent Barnes, the lyrics and music by Casper Nathan and Isham Jones, and according to reports this newest musical and farcical production is said to be fully abreast of anything in this line seen here in some time and unsurpassed in point of comedy, music and sartorial splendors and pretty girls.

"The Gumps" is unfolded in two acts and six scenes, reputed to be the last word in lavish decorations complete with every essential concomitant.

The cast of 50 includes singers, dancers and comedians of exceptional ability and reputation led by James R. Fraser and Bessie Clifton in matchless portrayals of Andy and Min, the principal characters of the cartoons.

City of Tobolsk.

One of the principal Siberian cities is Tobolsk, the commercial center of the vast province of Tobolsk, which extends over an area of 500,000 square miles, a large portion of which, however, is practically uninhabited. The most prominent building in the city is the Kremlin, built in imitation of the great citadel in Moscow. This structure was erected by Swedish prisoners of war captured by Peter the Great at the battle of Poltava in 1709.

Fortune Might Have Cost Life.

A letter informing him that he had been left $30,000 by an uncle in New Zealand was nearly the cause of the premature death of a house-painter in the Midlands of England. His wife, scenting news of an unexpected nature, had opened the letter while her husband was at work and, upon reading the contents, she rushed off to tell him. The painter was up a ladder at the time and so astounded was he that he fell, fortunately without sustaining serious injury.

TRAINS MEN IN HEALTH CENTERS

FEDERAL BOARD ESTABLISHES CLASSES FOR EX-SOLDIERS WHO HAVE RELAPSED.

MANY NEED THE RUDIMENTS

Promotion of Vocational Rehabilitation of These Disabled in Industry Is Making Good Progress Under Uel W. Lamkin.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.
Washington.—The federal board for vocational education has established 64 training centers in public health service hospitals, private sanatoria, soldiers' homes and community centers. The men in these institutions are ex-service men who suffered a relapse after their discharge and have come back to be treated at government expense.

The community center classes are attended by men living in their own homes while they gradually regain strength. Some have arrested cases of tuberculosis. There are 8,736 such men in hospitals where the federal board has established centers. Of these 3,597 desire training and are well enough to spend a limited amount of time each day on training for a new job; 2,543, or 72.5 per cent of the available number, are already in training in the 64 centers.

The largest classes are those for pre-vocational training, often plain reading, writing and arithmetic. At the same time these men may be getting a start in trade and industrial or agricultural training. In the hospital centers, business and commercial classes have the largest enrollment. Trade and industrial training come second, agriculture third, and professional subjects last.

For the Disabled in Industry.

Another activity of the board now making satisfactory progress is the promotion of vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry under the act of congress approved June 2, Uel W. Lamkin, former superintendent of schools in Missouri, has been made director of the new division, which, in co-operating with the individual states, will expend $7,000,000 during the present fiscal year in returning disabled persons to civil employment, and, under the act, will disburse $1,000,000 a year for the three years following July 1, 1921. Information which the board has assembled indicates that "only a very uncertain estimate" can be made of the number of persons disabled in industry each year and that it will be most difficult to estimate the number of persons so disabled who need training for new occupations to enable them to overcome the vocational handicap resulting from their disability.

The difficulty in making an estimate comes from the fact that few attempts have been made to follow up the disabled persons and to ascertain whether they were able to return to their former work. Some estimates have been put forth as to the total number of industrial accidents in one year in the United States, but these figures give no certain clue to the permanent impairments which require rehabilitation, since a large proportion in any total of industrial accidents are of such a nature that the worker entirely recovers.

May Number 150,000 Annually.

Perhaps the most conservative estimate made of the number of persons injured annually in industry and requiring rehabilitation is that of Charles H. Verrill of the United States employees' compensation commission, who based his conclusion on the ratio of industrial fatalities in the United States and permanent disabilities, and took into consideration only amputations of hands, arms, legs and feet, total loss of sight of one or both eyes, and loss of the use of these members to the extent of 50 per cent or more. He found that 11,000 persons are so impaired every year in American industries. To get an idea of the total requiring rehabilitation, experts have added large numbers of those with slighter injuries, also the entire corresponding class, impaired by accidents not of an industrial nature, which is believed to be at least equal to the industrial group. They also have added impairments due to disease. The board believes that 100,000 is a conservative estimate of the number of persons so injured or impaired annually as to be eligible for rehabilitation, and that an upper limit of 200,000 may not be an exaggeration.

As its contribution to the support of the program, congress has appropriated $750,000 for the fiscal year 1920-21, and $1,000,000 a year for the three years following. The proposition is to devote to the rehabilitation of disabled persons about 20 cents out of every $1,000 expended by the federal government for all purposes. To benefit under the act, the several states must match this expenditure, dollar for dollar per capita.

Acceptance of the act by any state makes its board for vocational education responsible for the maintenance and supervision of such rehabilitation courses as may be provided for out of the joint federal and state fund. To enable them to discharge their duties under the act, state boards will be under the necessity of developing an organization capable of performing continuous services along certain well-defined lines.

Bird's "Love Dance."

On some of the islands of the Pacific, in tropical South America, is found the beautiful bird known as the Jacana. It is famous for its so-called love dances, which appear to be executed by the males to excite the admiration of the female birds. When the mating season approaches the Jacana will single out its favorite lady and try to win her admiration with all its bewitching maneuvers. In the dance the wings are spread and worked in such a manner that the beautiful colored feathers produce a brilliant effect.
